Supporting Orthopaedic Research through

Keeping People Mobile

Joint Replacement Models (JRM) are anatomically and technically accurate recreations of joints with their new orthopaedic implants following surgery. Previously part of the training programmes for orthopaedic staff, these models assist with pre and post operative patient education. Several studies have shown how better patient knowledge improves the outcome of their surgery.

Excellent for Pre-Operative Informed Consent

Total Knee Replacement Model

The realistic replica bone material, complemented by the highly polished metal alloy implant creates models of outstanding quality.

Metal Components Only

Replica joint replacements are made from a highly polished metal alloy of outstanding quality for both hip and knee.

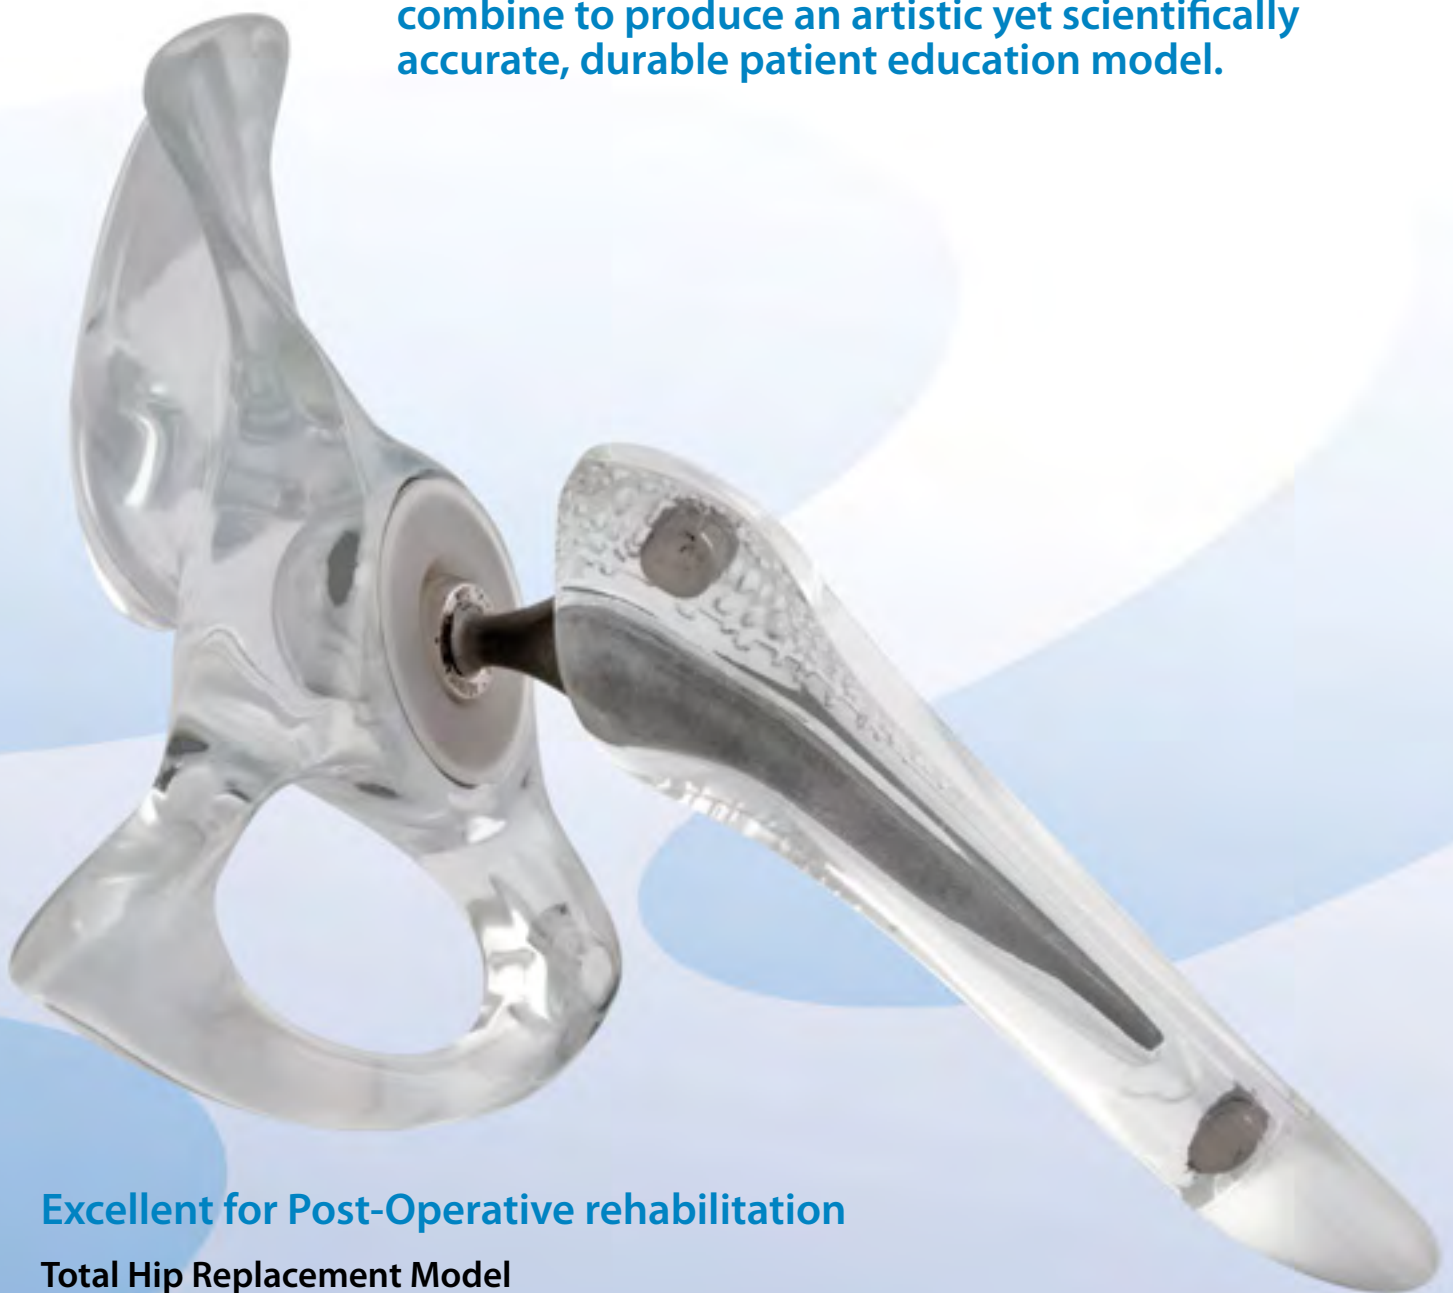

Certificate No. FS532464

JRM aims to enhance a patient's understanding of a Hip and Knee joint replacement. The models are accurate representations of the joint (post operatively) with detachable implants that replicate:

- The movement of the Total Hip and Total Knee replacement prosthesis within the joint space.
- The look and feel of the Total Hip and Total Knee replacement prosthesis for greater understanding of the procedure.

Quality workmanship and technical expertise combine to produce an artistic yet scientifically accurate, durable patient education model.

Excellent for Post-Operative rehabilitation

Total Hip Replacement Model

The anatomical accuracy is matched only by their originality as an attractive memento of a significant event in your patient's life.

Magnetic Hip - Patents granted.
